Raiders Haunt Red Devils 62-58

The Appomattox Raiders got some last second heroic from Mark Eggleston and James Reed as they came from behind to beat the Rustburg Red Devils 62-58 last Tuesday night in a Seminole District basketball game at Appomattox. The Raiders are 6-9 overall and 6-7 in the district.

Rustburg led the Raiders 14-9 at the end of the first quarter as Appomattox seem to have all the trouble finding the bottom of the basket as shots would roll around the rim and fall off. Both teams were even in the second quarter with 14 points each and the Red Devils still had a five point lead 28-23 at the half.

In the third quarter, Rustburg scored two from the foul line to take a 30-23 lead and a few seconds later a disputed call and a technical foul against Appomattox seem to get the Raiders fired up. The Raiders started pecking away and with 4:40 left in the quarter trailed by only one, 32-31. With 1:50 left Richard McCoy tied the score at 37-37 and 50 seconds later gave Appomattox a 39-37 lead. Rustburg hit and it was tied 39-39 after three quarters as Appomattox outscored the visitors 16-11 in that quarter.

The fourth quarter moved at a fast scoring pace in the last four minutes as the score was tied 43-43 with four minutes left in the game. The score changed back and forth and with 1:20 left in the game Dickie Kelso hit a jumper to give the Raiders a 55-54 lead, but Andrew Hood hit a long jump for the Red Devils to give them the lead back, 56-55, with 1:03 left to play. At this time it looked as if Appomattox was going to play for the last shot as the temp slowed, but with :20 second left Mark Eggleston hit a jumper from the corner and the Raiders led 57-56. A few seconds later Kelso stole the ball for a lay up and missed, but James Reed followed with a tap in and was fouled. He made the foul shot and it was 60-56 for Appomattox with nine seconds to go. Hood came down and hit another jumper for Rustburg and it was 60-58 with two seconds and Rustburg and it was 60-58 with two seconds and Rustburg took time out. Everyone gathered under the Rustburg basket on the inbounds play, but the pass from Eggleston was thrown the length of the court and Reed had gotten away from his man and made the last two points as the buzzer sounded and it was 62-58.

All of the Raiders play ed superbly, as Eggleston led the Raiders with 17 points, Reed had 12, Kelso and McCoy, 10 each and Ennoch Robinson nine. All of McCoy's points came in the second half on jumpers, tap-ins and lay-ups. Kelso had eight of his total in the second half on jumpers from the top of the circle and Robinson on defense was tought forcing Rustburg to the outside.

The Raiders hot 46%, 28 for 61, and the Red Devils hit 44%, 23 for 52. The rebounding was close as Appomattox pulled down 33 missed shots to 31 for Rustburg. Reed had eight rebounds for the Raiders, McCoy seven and Eggleston and Robinson six each. Rustburg turned the ball over 18 times, Appomattox 12.

Andrew Hood led Rustburg with 17 points, 12 in the second half. He was followed by Leonard Jackson with 16 and Curt Charlton had 12.

On the foul line Rustburg connected on 12 of 19 and the Raiders six of 14. Appomattox hit only 10 of 31 from the field in the first half but came back and was 18 of 30 in the second half.

There are a lot of stories in the news about demands for export grains. One estimate is that Russia will be short 25 million tons of grain by 1975. This is 12% of their 1973 production.

Virginia Tech specialists point out that although fertilizer prices are up, so are most crop prices. The economies of the situation suggest that farmers should fertilize more, not less. If fertilizer is limited, do not plant less acreage just to apply the recommended amount. Plant the same acreage, but apply the fertilizer at a lower rate.

A recent meeting of area beef cattle producers asked that a Cattlemen Organization be organized. A committee was appointed to develop an organizational structure. This has been done and an organizational meeting will be held Monday, February 18.
